WE WORK WITH SOME GREAT COMPANIES

Built up lettering differs from flat cut lettering in that it has an appreciable depth to it. Cut from sheet steel / aluminium and with welded returns we are able to manufacture this style of signage to any size or shape. Items can be fixed flush to the wall or sit proud

Material Options.

Brushed / Polished Stainless Steel (marine grade 316).
Powder coated Stainless Steel / Aluminium.

Fixing Options.

Flush to the wall on threaded rod fixings or held away from the wall on threaded rod / stand off locators to the reverse.

Illumination.

Internal illumination can be achieved via LED modules mounted inside the letters / logo with the light coming out of the open rear of the letters / logo. This gives a halo effect (glow on the surface behind). Alternatively a pencil light can be utilised

Built Up Lettering & Logos

A time served method of producing outdoor signs, Post & Panel signs are seen over the whole of the UK in a wide variety of shapes and sizes

Post Options

Steel or Aluminium. Price is slightly cheaper for steel posts, however aluminium has the advantage of not rusting. Posts can be powder coated to any standard RAL / BS colour reference, and can be square or round as suits.

Panel Options

Folded trays (as per the sign to the left) or flat panels can both be mounted onto posts. Flat panels are mounted with the posts behind them, whereas folded trays tend to have the posts at either end with the sign in between them.

Illumination

A post mounted pencil light can be utilised to illuminate face of sign

Post and Panel Signs

Flat Cut lettering (Fret Cut Lettering) is cut from a sheet of material by either laser or router. The letters can then be fixed flush to the wall via double sided adhesive tape or mounted onto locators which hold the letters slightly off the wall.

Material Options

Acrylic, Aluminium Composite, Wood or Foamex in a range of different material thicknesses.

Additional Information

Virtually any size or shape can be manufactured in a range of materials. Suitable for both internal & external use, their versatility allows them to be used in a wide range of locations each time adapting the material and fixing method to the environment.
